

Supplementary Resources to Support Families with Continuity of Learning

Business Studies, Computer Studies & Technology	Description	Type	For ELL	Early Years	1-3	4-6	7-8	9-12
Code.org	Curriculum for K-12 computer science from simple apps to complex computer programs. Includes a large bank of 1-hour coding activities used during the annual Hour of Code event.	Website	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
Crash Course Economics	A series of 35 videos that explain a variety of topics including supply and demand, specialization, trade, taxation, labour markets, game theory, etc.	Videos	✓					✓
Everfi	A variety of course options related to business education: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Financial Literacy Investing Basics Entrepreneurial Expedition 	Website						✓
MediaSmarts	A variety of tutorials, games and articles focused on digital citizenship, media literacy and current digital issues.	Website			✓	✓	✓	✓
Scratch Jr.	A free app that teaches young children (ages 5-7) how to program their own interactive stories and games. In the process, they learn to solve problems, design projects, and express themselves creatively on the computer.	Website App	✓	✓	✓

Business Studies, Computer Studies & Technology	Description	Type	For ELL	Early Years	1-3	4-6	7-8	9-12
Scratch	A free app that teaches young people how to program their own interactive stories and games. It helps them to think creatively, reason systematically, and work collaboratively.	Website App	✓			✓	✓	✓
The Global Virtual Stock Exchange	A free Global Online Stock Game that allows participants to trade stocks, commodities, and currencies from several different countries from around the world.	Website
University of Waterloo - Learn Python	Learn Python from Scratch using the University of Waterloo's video based lessons and interactive activities. For a text-based learning platform use this link .	Website					✓	✓
w3Schools	Fully contained lesson platform including instruction, interactive activities, quizzes and projects. Languages: HTML, Python, Java, C# and more.	Website		✓	✓	✓	✓	✓